John Diamond: C: Because Cowards Get Cancer Too. As far as John Diamond was concerned, cancer happens to other people. A columnist who is paid handsomely for spouting off each week about whatever is on his mind, he undergoes tests for the lump in his neck and, rather than panicking, sees it as a potentially interesting anecdote. " I imagined myself in a week or two's time not as someone who had been diagnosed as having cancer but as someone who had had a close brush with cancer - who ...

"Tell anyone that you have cancer and what they'll hear is that you're about to die. Why would they not? It's what you heard when you got the diagnosis, after all." These words are now over 10 years old, but John Diamond's account of medicine's most feared illness remains as fresh, insightful, and poignant as when it was first published. A British journalist and broadcaster, he ...
